DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story frame house is three bays wide by one bay deep with an ell to the rear, and rests on a stone foundation facing east. It is clad in wood shingles with an asphalt-shingled gable roof. The principal (east) facade has the entrance in the central bay, featuring a paneled surround with a three-pane transom and two-pane sidelights. Tall 2/2 sash windows occupy each of the flanking bays; three smaller 2/2 sash are arrayed across the second story, aligned directly above the first-floor openings.

A one-story, half-hipped porch spans the facade; it features turned posts and scrollwork brackets. Small turned pendants are centered between the posts. A low central cross gable holds a small round window, and is bridged by simple sawn trim in the apex. The cornice is boxed, with short returns at the gables; corbeled brick interior chimneys rise from both gable peaks.
